matter collected about the throat and brouchis tubes, which causes irritation. Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the musous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unbealthy accretions, and purifies the blood, Third. It is free from equilis, lobelin, iperac and opium, of which most throat and bung reme dies are composed, which allay cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lyophatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation
